Dublin, November 9.

LAST Friday Night a Chairman tied a Rope about his Neck, and then to one of the Trees in St. Stephen's Green, where he had been ſome Time hanging before he was diſcovered by a Perſon walking by, who happily cut him down time enough to ſave his Life; but ill declares he will take the other ſwing.

eſterday being the Swearing Day of the Maſter Wardens of the Corporation of Joyners, there a Sermon preached to them on that Occaſion at Andrew's Church, by the Rev. Mr. Pilkington. he ſame Day Mr. Jones, formerly Water Bailiff, g the Air on a Ring's End Car on the Gal- Road, was thrown out of his Seat, and fell his Face on the Ground, the Horſe and Car over him, cut the back of his Head, and bruiſed Knee ſeverely. A Gentleman who found him in melancholy Condition, took him home with and ſent immediately for a Surgeon to dreſs The Surgeon cannot give his Opinion whe- the Hurts are Mortal, becauſe Mr. Jones con- s ſtill Senſeleſs.

Kells, County of Weſt-Meath, Oct. 31.

I R,

ould not forbear ſending you an Account of a mical Buſineſs, which happened in the Neigh- hood ſome Time ago. A certain Pedlar, as he lled through the Country, called in at a Houſe e Road, and after opening his Box, and expoſing Ware, the Woman of the Houſe demanded the of a Silk Handkerchief; the Pedlar told her ou'd have it, provided ſhe would grant him a n Favour: It ſeems ſhe was not Proof againſt Bribe; ſo the Fellow had his Deſire of the an. They had ſcarce ſettled themſelves, but in the Man of the Houſe; the Pedlar had a mind his Preſent again, ſo demands Payment from ood Woman, and upon her Refuſal, threaten'd he would diſcover the Affair to her Cuckold. n ſhe found it could not be otherwiſe, ſhe cun- y convey'd a Coal of Fire into the Handker- wrapped it up in a Bundle, and throws it into ox, which happen'd to be open, amongſt his Wares, and haſten'd the Fellow out of the ; he had not gone above a Mile before the Box to crackle and ſmoak, which he put off his t laſt, open'd, and to his great Surprize, found ſt of his Goods that were capable of taking were all deſtroyed, together with the fatal erchief. Inrag'd, he brought the Woman be- Juſtice of the Peace, who ordered him no Satisfaction than Payment for his Handkerburgh, Nov. 9. Friday ſe'nnight a Serjeant's and of the Forces marched down to the Abbey with the Adjutant of the Regiment, in order unt a Guard within the Royal Palace; but denied Acceſs by Mr. Mitchell, Porter, and amilton, Clerk of the Precinct, till an Order is Majeſty or the Duke of Hamilton for their g, ſhould be exhibited to them; with which ing furniſhed, they were obliged to retire. ednesday laſt a Warrant under her Majeſty's arrived here, directed to the Keeper of the Royal of Holy-rood-houſe and his Deputes, ing Acceſs to the Troops to mount Guard the Palace: Whereupon his Excellency General Wade, immediately ordered a Commiſſion Officer, with a proper Guard, to do Duty there; accordingly Mr. Mitchell, the Porter, was turn'd out of the old Guard-houſe and Guard-room, on the right and left of the grand Entry, and the ſaid Command turn'd in.

Friday laſt was obſerved here in the uſual Manner, in Commemoration of the happy Deliverance of King James VI. and the Eſtates of Parliament, from that moſt traiterous and bloody intended Maſſacre by the Papiſts, known by the Name of the Gunpowder Plot.

We hear that Detachments from the Independent Companies are ordered to the Coaſt of Nairn, Cromarty, &c. to put more effectually an End to the pernicious Practice of Smuggling.

About Eight Days ago, a Gentleman of conſiderable Note in Perth, went out from his Houſe in that Town in an Evening, and was ſoon to have returned, but has not yet been heard of.

On Saturday a Fire broke out in General Wade's Lodgings in Canongate (by the Careleſſneſs of ſome of the Servants) while his Excellency was abroad a Viſiting, which, before it could be extinguiſhed, conſumed to Aſhes all his rich Cloaths, Equipage, &c. to a very great Value. Upon the firſt Notice of this Misfortune, the Magiſtrates ordered down the Fire Engines and all other Means of Relief, and his Excellency gave a handſome Reward to the Firemen and Watermen that aſſiſted.

Saturday laſt one James Wilſon, a Journeyman Wright, was, after Examination, committed to the City Priſon by Warrant of his Majeſty's Solicitor, upon a ſigned Declaration, that he was in Arms in the Street the Night John Porteous was hang'd on the Dyer's Tree.

They have begun here to ſerve all the Citizens with Summonſes, to appear before my Lord Dean of Guild and his Council, to bring with 'em Liſts of what Servants or Apprentices they had when John Porteous was hang'd, and to be ready to anſwer what other Interrogators ſhall be put.

Upon an Information exhibited againſt William Bruce, Inn-keeper in the Graſs-market, as having retailed Spirituous Liquors (other than Aquavitæ) contrary to Law, he has been cited to appear before the Juſtices on Thurſday next.

We have Accounts from many Parts of the Kingdom, that ſhew a general Diſpoſition in the Juſtices to put in Execution the Act relating to Spirituous Liquors; and particularly from Kirkaldy, that a certain Perſon of that Town was lately fined 15 l. Sterling (being as much as his Circumſtances would bear) for ſelling a Dram of foreign Spirits. It muſt give a Pleaſure to every Man, who wiſhes well to his Country, to obſerve, from this and many other Inſtances, a Zeal for its Welfare daily increaſing among the Juſtices, and the better Sort of People, who ſeem reſolved to make a right Uſe of the Indulgence given by the Legiſlature with reſpect to Aquavitæ; whereby 'tis hoped, the Retailing of Foreign Brandy will be entirely ſuppreſſed, which muſt greatly increaſe the Conſumption of our own Malt Spirits, and keep our ready Money at Home, that has been almoſt exhauſted by the Smuglers.

We hear that in a few Days will come on the Election of a Principal of the Univerſity of this City, in the room of the late Rev. Principal Smith, deceaſed; when, 'tis ſaid, the Rev. Dr. William Wiſheart, Miniſter of a diſſenting Congregation in London, and eldeſt Son to the late Rev. Principal Wiſheart will be choſen without Oppoſition.

The other Day a Gentleman of this City, having been a merry-making with ſome Friends in Eaſt Lothian, was ſo forward, againſt all Intreaty, as to mount his Horſe in the Night. On his Way there happened to lie a dead Horſe, which made his own Horſe ſtart and throw him, and ſcampering home, left his Rider on the Spot, where he ſlept ſoundly till Day-light. When he awoke, he was confounded to behold his Nag turn'd out of his Skin ſo quickly; but as there was no Remedy for it, he trudged into Town in his Boots, and coming to the Houſe where he had hired his Horſe, told the Landlord his Misfortunes, and how poor Roſinante had broke his Neck in tumbling down, and that ſome Rogues had ſtripp'd him of his Skin; but that he ſhould be no Loſer, paid down his Price, on Promiſe of profound Secreſy The good Man affecting a great deal of Sympathy, told him, he hop'd he'd get over the Loſs of his Beaſt, wiſhing he might recover of the Hurt he had by the Fall, and the Detriment to his Health by lying in the Fields; and that, for his Part, a Bowl of Punch Royal ſhould ſet all to rights. While they were a drinking it, the Landlord undeceived him, by telling, that Roſinante was ſtill at Don Quixot's Service, whenever he inclin'd to go a Padding again.

Exeter, Nov. 12. The Loſs of Captain Skinner, with ſeveral of his Men, as mention'd in one of our former, and the Cargo valued at upwards of 20,000 l. is confirm'd: As is the Loſs of all the Tranſports which were ſent from hence and ſhipp'd at Bedeford laſt Year; but the Captain and his Men ſav'd themſelves with geat Difficulty in the Boat. Thoſe from Ivelcheſter (among whom were the Thimblemen) had the good Fortune to go in another Veſſel, and are ſafely landed.

Norwich, Nov. 13. Saturday laſt the Rev. Mr. Soley, Jun. was collated by the Right Rev. the Lord Biſhop of Norwich to the Rectory of Threxton in the County of Norfolk and Dioceſe of Norwich. And Yeſterday the Rev. Mr. Giddings was nominated by his Lordſhip, to the Vicarage of Surlingham in the ſame County.

On Sunday about Two o'Clock, Legood the Warrener was brought to the Caſtle from London under a ſtrong Guard.

On Monday laſt John Hall alias Painter, and James Blead, alias John Johnſon alias Black Jack in the Weſt, were apprehended at the Crown in St. Stephen's, on Suſpicion of robbing Watton Church, &c. and committed to Goal till the Inhabitants of Watton could come to Town. And on Wedneſday they appeared before William Brooke, Eſq; Thomas Vere, Eſq; and William Clark, Eſq; and the Fringe cut off the Pulpit Cloth, the black Silk Tippet, Surplice, &c. that were ſtolen out of the Church, were found in their Poſſeſſion, were ſworn to, as alſo the two Mares by Mr. Smith and Mr. Stalworthy. Upon ſearching Painter, a Firelock which appeared to be the breech End of a Muſket cut off, about 9 Inches long, loaded with one Bullet and a Quantity of ſmall Shot; Powder, Shot, Matches, Flints, a Knife and Razor, a Whiſtle, and a Set of Keys to unlock Paſture Gates, were found in his Pocket; and in Johnſon's, a Gimblet and Knife were found: They appear to be dangerous Rogues, and gave out they had been concerned in Smugling. They made their Eſcape out of Bury Gaol a little before laſt Aſſizes, where they were then in Cuſtody; Painter for robbing Mr. Lomb of Shipdham, and taking from him Eleven Pounds in Money and his Watch, on the Highway; and Johnſon for breaking up and robbing a Smith's Shop. After their Examination, they they were both removed to the Caſtle on the Caſtle Hill.

SIR,

THE following are what a Gentleman of my Acquaintance made on ſeeing a young Lady (who is lately come from Scotland) walking in the Park. If you find any thing in them worthy Inſertion, they are very much at your Service, from,

SIR,

Fleet-ſtreet Nov. 16. Your conſtant Reader,
And very humble Servant,
PHÆDRIA.

On ſeeing Miſs C—kb—ne, in the Park.

THUS once aſtoniſh'd ſtood the Trojan Swain,
Confounded with the Pleaſure and the Pain,
Which he beheld in the Italian Grove,
Minerva, Juno, and the Queen of Love.
But all theſe Goddeſſes at once I find,
In charming C---kb-- ne's nobler Form combin'd;
Force Majeſty, and ev'ry ſofter Grace,
Whole Heavens conſeſt in her diviner Face:
All round ſhe darts the Glories of the Sky,
Its Thunder, and its Lightning from her Eye,
And where the pointed Flaſhes fall, we die.

I ſels

I felt the Bolt transfix my trembling Heart,
And in my Breaſt I felt the pleaſing Smart:
I, who before had arm'd my ſtubborn Breaſt,
And made the boaſted Force of Eyes a Jeſt;
I, who cou'd ne'er amidſt the ſparkling Round
Of earthly Goddeſſes, yet meet one Wound.
I, who through Crouds of Beauties paſt each Day,
Survey'd, unhurt, the Court, the Park, the Play;
Where with deſign the haughty Dames retort,
To vanquiſh Men, and make our Hearts their Sport:
I, by one ſingle Glance, and undeſign'd,
The utmoſt Furies of Love's Anger find;
Revengeful Cupid there in Ambuſh lay,
Sure from her Eyes, to make my Heart his Prey:
The ſullen Boy, not with one Wound content,
In that one Glance, ten thouſand Arrows ſent,
Which made a thouſand Breaches in my Heart,
And fixt a fatal Shaft in ev'ry Part:
From ev'ry Part a thouſand Loves ariſe,
Strong as her Beauty, charming as her Eyes.
Hold, Cupid, hold, I can rebel no more,
Thy Royalty I own, confeſs thy Power,
I never ſaw thee on thy Throne before:
True, I have ſeen thy dubious Shadow play,
And gamble in the inoffenſive Ray
Of feebler Eyes, the Twilight of her Day.
The doubtful Light, thy Deity deceiv'd,
And not till now was all the God reveal'd.
Ah! from ſuch Eyes cou'dſt thou ſtill ſpeed thy Darts,
All wou'd confeſs thee, Sovereign of all Hearts;
All wou'd with Joy, thy willing Subjects prove,
And all wou'd then be Peace, for all wou'd then be Love.
